Finds Holland Close Link Between Home and U. S.

Among the many students who traveled a long way from home to attend Hope College this fall is Jan van Schellgaarde from the Hague, Netherlands.

Seventeen-year-old Jan received a scholarship from Hope in June. He left his parents, one sister, and four brothers on September 4, 1946, when he started out on a cargo ship for the United States. Riding with some exchange students and sailors on the boat, he arrived in New York on September 16 and came to Holland on September 18.

Jan, who lives in the T Dorm on Columbia and 12th Street, likes Hope and Holland very much. He said that Holland is a close link between the Netherlands and the United States. He considers dorm life to be much better than he thought. Jan's roommate is from the Netherlands, too, but he hasn't arrived as yet.

When the war started for the Netherlands on May 10, 1940, Jan was just finishing the elementary school. He went on to four of the six years of the Gymnasium Beta, which compares to our high school, until the students had to evacuate the school. For his fifth year some of the students tried to hold classes in one of the homes. However, they were unable to concentrate on their studies as much as was necessary. This past year Jan took two years in one to make up for the previous year he had lost. At that time he was editor of his school newspaper, the V.C.L. Nieuws.

Jan says that the conditions in the Netherlands are very bad right now. Most of the stores are empty, and when one can buy something, it is of bad quality. He bought a small suitcase before coming to the United States, and he paid $9 for it. At one time a person could buy one for less than $1. The people have enough bread, vegetables, and potatoes in the Netherlands, but there is a shortage of milk, butter, sugar, and meat.

A great deal of reconstruction work is going on at the present time. However, it will be quite awhile before the new Netherlands will be like the old Netherlands of before the war. Jan declares that those trees not burned during the war were used by the people for heating purposes when fuel was hard to obtain.

Before coming to the United States, Jan had never heard of "Swell," "OK," "Hi," but he finds that he uses them now. Such words as "two weeks" and "barber" seem strange to him, for he used "fort-night" and "hair dresser."

When asked his opinion of the American girl, Jan said, "The American girl is better looking than the Dutch girl." He believes, however, that the American girl wears too much make-up.

Jan's ambition is to go back to the Netherlands after a few years to study more there, and then he would like to go to South America, the United States, Canada or South Africa as an engineer.

Hope to Play Host To Music Mentors

The annual meeting of music professors and department heads of several Michigan colleges will be held on our campus in the early part of November. Although the group has met many times before, it is the first time Hope has ever played host.

The program for the one day meeting consists of a discussion period, luncheon, and a tour of the campus in the afternoon.

One of the subjects which will be discussed is the increased enrollment in the colleges.

Those who will be present are: Mr. Eugene Grove, Alma College; Mr. James Spencer, Adrian; Mr. Henry Overley, Kalamazoo; Mr. Edwin Hames, Hillsdale; Miss Avis Thomas, Olivet; Mr. Seymour Swets, Calvin; Mr. L. A. Rowland, Albion; and a representative from the Immanuel Missionary College of Berrien Springs.

Mrs. Walvoord to Talk At Kappa Delta Meeting

Kappa Delta Society will hear Mrs. Edith Walvoord for its first meeting of the season, October 17, at the home of Mrs. Eugene Osterhaven, group counselor. Mrs. Walvoord is Director of Religious Education of the First Reformed Church of Holland.

This year Kappa Delta plans to support several different phases of Christian work among the various mission fields of the Reformed Church.

Last May Kappa Delta began a project of providing a scholarship for a girl attending school at Annville, Kentucky. Letters will be written, boxes sent out and contacts made with the students at that school.

Kappa Delta is an organization for all girls interested in some type of Christian service.

Dean Lichty to Speak At Induction Meeting

Next Tuesday evening the new freshmen Y.W.C.A. members will be formally inducted into the organization in a candlelight service. Dean Elizabeth Lichty will be the speaker of the evening.

At the last meeting, Mr. Dick Winter, of the American Sunday School Union, showed color movies of the Union's work in Daily Vacation Bible Schools. The movies were accompanied by a lecture. Alida Kloosterman, Y.W.C.A. treasurer, was in charge of the devotional service.

Campus Activities Schedule Formulated For Semester

Society night will be Friday night but if conflicts arise with other all-campus functions, each society will make plans for their respective organizations. A scheduled meeting for Thursday or Saturday night shall take precedence over a society meeting on either of those nights. It was suggested that girls' societies should have an afternoon tea when it was impossible for them to meet on Friday evening.

Either Friday or Saturday night will be used for all-college mixers — whichever proves most suitable to the Student Direction Committee of the Faculty.

Frosh To Don Green Friday At Traditional Hope Mixer

New Instructors Increase Faculty

Three new faculty members have been added to Hope's teaching staff. Sociology and two freshman economic courses will be taught by Mr. R. R. Horner. Before joining Hope's faculty, Mr. Horner taught for some time at Grand Rapids Junior College and then for twelve years at the University of Michigan from which he received his A.B. and M.A. degrees.

In 1941 Mr. Horner resigned from the university staff to attend to business interests. In 1942 he went to Washington as principal economist in charge of the casting section of iron and steel. Later Mr. Horner joined the staff of a combined raw materials board, a United Kingdom agency which had immediate supervision over all raw materials of the liberated areas of Europe.

Holland has been the official home of Mr. and Mrs. Horner since 1941. He now owns and operates the Mooring property on the North shore of Lake Macatawa.

After a year's absence, Dr. George Menninga of Western Theological Seminary, has returned to Hope as an instructor in freshman Bible.

Dr. Menninga was graduated from Central College in 1920. He received his M.A. from the University of Iowa and his Ph.D. from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Kentucky. He also received the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity from Central College.

In addition to occupying the chair of English Bible and Missions in the seminary, Dr. Menninga is secretary of the faculty and registrar of the seminary. Before accepting his call to Western seven years ago, he held the professorship of Bible and psychology at Central College.

Mr. Henry Ten Hoor is one of the new freshman English professors. Mr. Ten Hoor, a local man, graduated from Calvin College in 1938 and then taught for five years at a military academy in Tennessee before entering the Navy.

Mr. Ten Hoor has received his M.A. degree from the University of Michigan. Mrs. Ten Hoor graduated from Hope with the class of '34.

must make a pleasing curtsy. (2) Freshmen must wear their "green" at all times, on and off campus, in and out of Holland. Only on Sunday are they exempt from these rules. (3) After 10:30 on weekends all freshmen must be off the streets. (4) No Freshmen, either male or female, may date an upper classman except on Sunday and special meeting nights.

Preceding the donning of the "green" a variety program will be given, which will enable each class to display its talent. In charge of the Freshmen program will be Wy Bond while the Sophomores will be led by Jean Sibley. Chet Droog is the Master of Ceremonies for the affair and Lou Bixby will lead the college song service.

First privileged to be adorned with "green" will be Dorothy Content of Hasbrouck Heights, New Jersey, the freshman student council representative and Max Frego of Holland, Gabby Van Dis, Student Council President, and Elaine Meeusen, W. A. L. President, will have the honor of placing the pots on the lowly frosh and showing them the correct position in which they should be worn.

After the presenting of the "green" for which the freshmen pay one dollar, refreshments will be served.

Classes Elect New Officers for Year

At the senior class meeting held last week Chet Droog of Orange City, Iowa, was elected to head the Senior Class. Joanne Decker was then voted to plan the parties as Vice President while Edith Herlein keeps books and Chuck Knooi-huisen collects the dues. To make sure the seniors are well represented in Student Council, Keith Sodeberg was elected to that office.

Don Mulder of Ann Arbor, Michigan takes up his duties as president of the junior class. Ernie Post, fullback from the city of Holland was elected Vice President. To assist the President, Alida Kloosterman was given the bookkeeping duty and Phyllis Darrow that of depositing treasury money. Joe Palmer of Grand Haven represents the junior class at Student Council meetings.

At the sophomore class Meeting the main issue at stake was that of electing members of the Class of '49 to fill the office for this coming school year. The result of the election proved to be the turning over of the gavel by Ex-prexy Dick Van Doren, to the new president, Bill Hillegonds, now of Holland and the husband of former campus queen, Libby Romaine. Duties of vice-president went to Jack Stegeman of Muskegon, while the minutes were turned over to Carolyn Ingham of Ferndale, Michigan. Betty Weaver of Williston Park, Long Island, received the contents of the treasury. Phil Meengs of Zeeland, Michigan, was chosen to represent the sophomore class in Student Council.

The freshmen held their election with Gabby Van Dis, Student Council President, starting the meeting until the frosh chose Russell Nordin of Grand Rapids, to lead the class of green. Bill Ver Hey of Holland was elected Vice President. Anita Wells from Pompton Lakes, New Jersey, and now resident of West Hall is the new Secretary, and Barbara Kranendonk will take up her duties as Treasurer for the class.

Group to Discuss Control of Atom

On May 6th of this year the International Relations Club was organized under the sponsorship of Miss Metta J. Ross, professor of history. The purpose of organizing this club was to give its members a better understanding of current international problems through individual study and group discussions. It was felt the one exceedingly important factor which will determine whether we will continue on the road to peace is the degree to which we as citizens sustain our determination to achieve peace and give it practical expression through an active understanding of the conditions essential to peace. The group was of the opinion that if enough of us can keep our minds on these matters, even when no war is in sight, there is considerable prospect that we shall make a substantial contribution to the common problem of achieving world order.

Such contributions, though seemingly small, may be sufficient to weight the balance on the side of peace.

Chester Droog, president of the club, presided at the two discussion meetings held after organization last semester. The current world food shortage and relations with Russia were the topics considered. Educational movies, authoritative speakers on current problems and vital discussion material will be used by the group.

Meetings are planned for the first and third Thursdays of each month at 7:30 P. M. with the next meeting scheduled for October 17. At that time "Atomic Energy — Who Should Control It?" will be the problem for discussion. It is planned that a movie will be shown.

The organization shall be composed of active and associate members. Eligible for associate membership will be any student who shows sufficient interest to attend one or more of the meetings. Active members will participate in all discussions, activities, voting and other matters which pertain to the club's functions.

Blue Key Welcomes Members at Dinner

Blue Key National Honor Fraternity held its first dinner meeting of the semester recently in the lounge of the Temple Building. Following the dinner President Stengenga, president of the Hope Chap-

Dr. Leenhouts Posts Hours of Health Clinic

Dr. Abraham Leenhouts, doctor in charge of the Hope College Health Clinic, has announced that the clinic will have regular hours every morning except Sunday from 8:30 to 11:30. For emergencies, Dr. Leenhouts can be reached at 3416, the clinic number, or 2776, his home phone.

According to Dr. Leenhouts, prevention of disease will be emphasized at the clinic. Its purpose is to give general health supervision to all students of Hope College.

The services of consultation, examination, and diagnosis are available. Treatment of minor ailments will be given at no cost to college students. If disorders are major or protracted, students will be referred to a local physician of their own choice. Beds will be set up for less serious illnesses which will be cared for by Dr. Leenhouts and the nurses in attendance.

Although the clinic is not entirely completed, students are invited to take advantage of the regular morning hours.

Vets, Wives to Attend Last Reception Oct. 12

The last of the formal faculty receptions will be held this Saturday for all the married couples on campus. Background music will be supplied by Ruth Tallman, Jeff Wiersum, Beatrice Lockwood, Janet Joldersma, Betty Van Lente, and Betty Fuller.

On the two preceding Saturdays receptions were held for the new and old students. At the first reception John De Vries, Alma Vander Hill, Marion Slinn, Betty Fuller, and Harriet Myskens supplied the music; while Pat Letz, Prudence Haskin, Jeff Wiersum, Betty Van Lente, Roger Rietberg, Harriet Myskens, and Dick Vriesman entertained for the old students.

During the course of business, Chet Droog and Roger Rietberg were formally initiated into the organization. Russ De Vette, a former Blue Key member of the Denison University Chapter, was welcomed into the Hope Chapter.

Reports were presented by the committee chairmen of the book store and the football programs and student guide publications. In addition to the active student members, faculty advisor Albert Lampen, Dean Milton Hinga, Dr. Bruce Raymond and Dr. Harvey Kleinheksel attended the meeting.

Position of Small College

Small church related colleges have a special standard which it is necessary for them to maintain, and Hope is no exception. These goals were made when the college was established, and each succeeding group of faculty, students, and administrative officials has endeavored to uphold these aims. While these standards may have changed because of progress and development, the basic fundamentals still remain. The task presented to our college therefore, is twofold: to provide instruction in various fields and to present this from a Christian viewpoint.

The former is ably provided for by a competent faculty. The latter is accomplished through the morning chapel exercises and through various campus organizations. However, there is this undercurrent in all campus activities. We of Hope are proud of this association, and welcome all new students to join with us to maintain this Christian character. We realize that the background of some students may be entirely different than the average Hope student, but we trust that they will acquire the Hope spirit and adhere to the principles for which we stand.

A college does not build up respect by catering to the whims and fancies of all, but prestige is acquired by the quality of graduates which it turns out. With a record enrollment, and with everyone endeavoring to remain true to Hope's customs and traditions, we are sure that many outstanding Hope graduates will enter their respective fields in the next few years.

Register For Elections

Let us not be too ready to blame our Government. We elect our members to Congress and to fill other governmental positions, and the expressed wishes of their constituents should control them. It is our responsibility to seek out and train our best young men for these high and responsible tasks. We, all Hope College students who are over twenty-one years of age and are citizens of the United States, will soon have the opportunity and privilege of casting our votes for candidates to fill both State and National positions.

Most States hold their elections for the selection of State officers at the same time that presidential electors and United States senators and representatives are chosen — Tuesday after the first Monday in November of even numbered years. November 5 will be election day here in Michigan. However, Virginia, Kentucky, and Mississippi hold State elections in November of odd-numbered years; and two states, New York and New Jersey, elect certain State Officers annually. A few states hold their elections earlier than November. We hope that all eligible voters on Hope's campus have familiarized themselves with voting procedures and will avail themselves of the opportunity to vote in their home states, home districts, or otherwise here in Holland, Michigan, if this is their home city. You may vote either in person or through the absentee ballot, but be sure you are registered and are eligible to vote somewhere.

Under the Michigan statutes no person may vote in this state who has not first qualified by registering as an elector in the election precinct in which he or she resides. You must have registered on or before October 16. To be eligible for registration a person must be a citizen of the United States, at least 21 years of age, a resident of the state for at least six months, and of the township or city for twenty days, or possess such qualifications at the next ensuing primary or election. However, students at Hope College whose home is not in Holland, even though they are residents of the State of Michigan, must vote in their own home towns, either in person or by absentee ballot.

Let us not blame our government for what we think is wrong but, rather, Register and Vote to improve our government.

Every week is "Stork Week" in Holland, Michigan. While Hope Co-eds are changing their hair-do's, the men are changing their off-spring's diapers. It is no longer an unusual sight to see Profs and students exchanging cigars.

Thus we announce the birth of a baby boy to Dr. and Mrs. John Hollenbach, and a girl to Mr. and Mrs. James DenHerder. We understand Dr. Hollenbach can sing, but Jim has already bought the record, "Lullaby and Goodnight," by Spike Jones. They've both discarded the saying, "All's quiet on the home front," now it's, "How did you enjoy your walk last night?" That's only the beginning. We hear tell that John Vander Broek's young son has outgrown the term Daddy. Jackie already says, "John, don't do that" or "John, how about sharing an all-day sucker with me?"

The hardest thing for Ess Bogart to do is to get up Saturday morning. For the past three years her first words on Saturday were, "Good Afternoon." Now she has an 8:00 class and someone had to teach her how to say, "Good-morning."

Everybody has been talking about the well-served meals at the Temple building. They're not too sure of butterfingers Jack Pontier. He dropped a tray the other day and ever since the students at his table have been eating with their napkins on their heads.

Van Vleck's ex-housemother, Miss Nowlen, wrote to some of her problem children that she's now a housemother at a men's dorm in Oregon. She says they're easier to handle — and you know that's sooooo true.

Friday night found all the lofty football stars giving the freshman girls a thrill. "I'm coming to Hoffman's after every game!" each little frosh screamed, as the battered but brave boys brusquely sauntered in after ye olde game with Michigan Normal. "Rah rah boys" Scholten, "Lengthy" Ladewig, and "Welcome to Hope" Wel-ler were among those present and observing.

And why doesn't some aspiring "I'm working my way through college" youth install parking meters in front of Voorhees? Nuff sed.

Goodbye — Indian Summer

By Gert Vredevel

It might be "anybody's Spring" — but Summer belongs to the College Student. Now when you sit during those few welcome minutes before class starts, or your free hour spent in the Model, or those five long nights supposedly filled with study, you can sit back and think about that lazy Summer.

It all comes back slowly — the long lazy day at the beach where you happened to see everyone from the star football player to none other than Dean Lichty, the long lazy moonlight nights where again you bumped into all of your classmates from Hope, and the long lazy Summer where at last you found rest from the weary winter worrying.

You can again picture the slow sailboat riding or the glorious never-to-be-forgotten speedboating. And then there was the water-skiing with its thrills and, yes-you-guessed-it-again, spills. That lights-camera-action feeling when the sun on the water was a perfect ribbon stretched over the few belligerent waves, and the breeze and salt water raced through your hair, and your heart just wouldn't stop trying to race with them.

You remember your French book kept out of storage because you were going to read up on Moliere. But even if that untouched dust is still thick upon its cover you have that satisfied feeling of having completed Agatha Christie's latest mystery, and the pile of magazines whose ragged covers show numerous lazy afternoons spent in thumbing through them.

You have that vague recollection of the fall clothes you were going to buy with the hard earned pennies you earned and then you smile to yourself because you spent all of your money on one giddy pair of shoes and had to spend those last few days fixing up last year's clothes to see you through another year.

That long lazy Summer, with its swimming and fishing, its mornings to sleep in and its bright moonlight nights is all a part of a cherished memory, something to

Math-ah-man-tics!!

Dear Chum:

With the school getting under way once more I thought I might write and tell you about your dear ol' Alma Mama. You wouldn't know it.

In the first place there are men on the campus — all shapes and sizes, blond and brunette, in fact any type of the male species you might want — 800 of them. Of course, some unfortunately are married, some engaged or taken, but I'm safe thus far. I've got it all figured out mathematically.

There are approximately 800 men and if you take away 100 unavailable ones that would leave 700 males to us 350 females. Divide them equally and each girl gets two men. But Gracie and Faye go steady so that mean's I can have their two extra men. Do you know what that means? I get four men to take my pick from. Isn't that novel?

You should see the chapel each morning — "loaded to the gills" as Dean Hinga would say — even the balcony. Of course, it's kind of hard to hear; and seeing they use two hymnals it's not easy finding the right hymn. Yesterday I was singing "Rock of Ages," the girl in front was sounding off on "True-Hearted, Whole-Hearted," and in back was coming "Love Divine."

Halls are jammed and sidewalks, too, the outer sidewalks especially. They're crammed with C.O.C. club members, Cigarette Off Campus Club, that is. If you aren't careful you get shoved right along in the crowd. I didn't want to take Greek but I've missed my right classroom three times now.

I can't describe the library cause it's so changed you wouldn't know it. You can't imagine what it's like not to find any room to study. Of course, there's always my room but there's no future in that. I've got to go now and trace the History reference book. I'm twentieth in line for it.

Your pal,
Peggy Prins.

give you a warm glowy feeling when the snow flurries are falling and you shut yourself up to study for mid-terms. It makes you happy that you can spend your Summer in Holland and your Winter at Hope — and it makes you glad you're you.

Theme For Daily Devotions

It is probable that, apart from religious sanction, the destinies of men were never more involved in any happening than they are in the Peace Conference at present meeting in Paris, France. If it fails it might be the collapse of civilization. If it succeeds, it may bring an era of peace such as the world has never known. We may feel a sense of our own powerlessness to affect its result. But we are not powerless. We have not plumbed the resources of intercessory prayer. The Conference should be a constant theme of our individual and collective devotions. We urge on our students and faculty to make it so.

Hungarian College Extends Thanks For Help Received

Undoubtedly, both old and new students are interested in learning a few more facts concerning campus life at Sarospatak College in Hungary — the school towards which Hope-ites contributed over $1,000 last spring. The President of Sarospatak addressed a letter to Hope College which contains vital information about this old Hungarian institution. The following interesting excerpts have been taken from this letter:

"At the very beginning, Sarospatak School was only an elementary school, but it soon developed into a 'collegium' in which Latin, Greek, Hebrew, and Theology were also taught. Then it had two faculties, a Secondary School and a Theological Seminary. In the 19th century two more faculties were added: a Law School and a Training College for Elementary School Teachers. In 1931, on the 400th anniversary of the Academy, a Modern English department was opened. Sarospatak is the first and only Hungarian school at which English is taught throughout the whole curriculum.

"In 1938 a new college was opened for boys in the Classical Latin Branch, and in 1940 another one was organized for boys who received scholarships. Eleven years ago a new institution, 'The People's Academy,' was established. It is a school for village boys and girls who have not attended Secondary School, but who, nevertheless, wish to improve their Elementary School training.

"Of the fifty professors, thirty are members of the Secondary School Branch, and seven are professors on the Theological faculty.

"Sarospatak, like Hope, has an enrollment of approximately 1,000 students. Of this number, fifty are theological students; 200 are enrolled in the Normal School and 650 in the Secondary School. Between 80 and 100 students attend the 'People's Academy.' The secondary school curriculum is similar to that of Hope College.

"Every day begins and ends with prayers, and two periods every week are devoted to religious instruction in all departments.

"Although Sarospatak once owned about 5,200 acres of land, as a result of the Land Reform Act of 1945, by which all landed estates had to be given over as small allotments to small holders and farmers, the campus was reduced to 100 acres only.

"The school's library is one of the oldest in the country. It was for a long time one of the richest as well, containing many old manuscripts. However, in the spring of 1945 many were lost and there is little hope that they will be returned. As financial difficulties have become more and more serious, less funds could be used for the purchase of books. At present, the college is not in a position to support it at all. Our museums, collections, and laboratories also suffered great losses. Damage has also been done to school furniture and equipment. During the siege of Sarospatak in December, 1944, a large number of houses were burned.

"Our teachers and students have had very little milk, sugar, and meat in the last 16 months. The number of ragged students is becoming more prevalent. In the winter many boys were forced to remain at home for lack of shoes and winter coats.

"We thank you most sincerely for the interest which you have shown us. Any gifts of money, books, food or clothing will be deeply appreciated. You will be remembered by students and professors at Sarospatak. However, the first and greatest aid you can give us in your prayers. May we beseech you therefore to continue praying to God that He may soon bring about the so much needed understanding and peace among the nations of the world, and that we, too, in Hungary may, after so much suffering, live and work in peace to the best of mankind and to the Glory of God."

Students who contributed to the W.A.L. Hungarian Relief Project may be assured that their gifts were sorely needed and gratefully accepted. In a letter to Dr. Osterhaven one of Sarospatak's professors, Arpad Beretz, describes the effect which Hope's gifts had upon the students and teachers at Sarospatak. He said:

"I was a student of theology in Sarospatak during the war years, and later on became a teacher in the English Secondary School there. Your letter to the Sarospatak College and Academy arrived the very evening I was departing from Sarospatak on my way back to the United States. I had just time to read the contents of your letter. I am sorry you weren't there to see the electrifying effect on the members of the faculty when your letter was read and understood. Your token of Calvinistic Christian Brotherhood overwhelmed them to such a degree that many of them had tears in their eyes. I shall never forget the light of hope and happiness that shone in their faces, not so much for the material help promised, which is very badly needed, but for the moral assistance it gave them in knowing that they were not entirely alone in their struggles. Before I left, the faculty of the school asked me to convey to you their heartfelt thanks and gratitude for your splendid gesture of Christian Reformed solidarity. I know that their prayers of thanksgiving have reached your hearts by now.

"Having spent eight and a half years in Sarospatak, I should be very pleased indeed to supply you with any and every information as regards the school and school-life there. I have, too, an intimate knowledge of Church life in Hungary and the surrounding countries. You are free to call on me at any time to give you any help or information that you might need in this connection."

ARPAD BERETZ.

What A Line

By Lois Meulendyke

No, I'm not out of work (heaven only knows) no, I don't want fifty cents for a cup of coffee, and what's more, I'm not in a stocking line. You know, they used to teach us that a line was the shortest distance between two points but lately I've been getting my own ideas on the subject.

If you don't mind, I'll do a little thinking while I'm waiting to get at the object of all this — mainly the office of the registrar. I'm a little rusty on my math, besides the fact that I slid through on my good intentions, so here goes.

Now come to think of it, there's something definitely wrong with that hypothesis—big word for a frosh, don't you think! A straight line—h-m-m-m. Well, my stars and cuff buttons, anyone can see that this isn't a straight line. And besides that, how can a straight line turn that next corner at the library door? Oh boy, I'll certainly have to tell Mr. Lampen about this. I can just see the head lines. "HOPE COLLEGE DECLARES CO-ED'S GENIUS" — that's me, in case you're wondering.

Let's see now, the rest of it is something about two given points. My "dull normal" I.Q. limits my thinking capacity, but as far as I can figure it out, it means that the one point is where the lucky guy is and the other point is where I am. Now that's life for you, just because he had an alarm clock he could get up twenty-five minutes before any other human being around here could.

Oh, hello, yes, I'm still at the same "given point." You know, I've been thinking some more and this line business isn't what it's cooked up to be. What I need is a right angle. In case you're confused, I'm talking about the registrar . . . he's the angle in this case. EURIKA — I've got another brainstorm! This math stuff is no good, and what's more, I just remembered that that fellow is a neighbor. I'm gonna start working on a good neighbor policy.

The Journey's End

Man glides down a lazy stream For a few short years of life, Then of a sudden the rapids come And make it a survival fight.

Some are dashed against the hungry rocks, Some get started and slide back, Some give in and halfway dock To seek what refuge they can.

Blessed are those who take all the knocks And have a sturdy boat that will stand, Till they have all the rapids crossed And reach the journey's end.

Plans for Speech League Drafted at Lansing Meeting

The Intercollegiate Speech League met in the Roosevelt Hotel, Lansing, Friday, October 4, to formulate plans for the coming year. The eleven colleges represented were Adrian, Alma, Albion, Hillsdale, Hope, Michigan State, Western Michigan College of Education, Michigan Normal, Calvin, Kalamazoo, and Central State.

Joanne Decker, Luella Pyle, and Betty Timmer, three members of Pi Kappa Delta, a national forensic fraternity, and Ann Vander Veer, winner of last year's interpretive reading contest, were student representatives of Hope. Dr. William Schrier and Mr. Edward Avison were faculty representatives.

Joanne Decker presided over this meeting which set dates for all the forensic contests this year.

Dr. Schrier was re-elected for the second time as forensic Director of Debate. The intercollegiate contest will be held March 7 at Western Michigan College of Education, Kalamazoo, Mich.

Mr. Robert Starring was elected Director of Debate. The regular tournament and league debaters will be guests of Michigan State, East Lansing, on February 15, 1947. A Junior Tournament for first season debaters will be an event of April 19. Michigan State will act as hosts at that time.

A discussion festival at which the intercollegiate debate question will be talked over will be held Friday, November 23, with Mr. J. David Menchoffer of Michigan State presiding.

On January 10, Dr. Kaump of Kalamazoo College will be director of extemporaneous speaking. Two topics were chosen for men and two for women. For women, American Foreign Policy and Juvenile Delinquency; for men, U. S. rela-

P & M Begins Work On One-Act Plays

"Shades of Shakespeare" might well have been the thought of anyone entering the Tri-Alpha room during the recent Pallet and Masque tryouts. The afore-mentioned room reminded one of the "Old Vic" itself, as a semi-circle of aspiring young actors gave their all to the reading of dialogues.

The P. & M. plans on having several one-act plays ready for presentation by the end of this month. The plays being considered are: "Weinies on Wednesday," a comedy; "The Valiant," a semi-religious play; and "Dweller in The Dark," a mystery of the unknown.

One play a month is the goal of the Thespians, with every third play being of a religious nature. P. & M. will continue presenting plays for various organizations off the campus.

tions with Russia and Control of Atomic energy.

On Saturday, May 3, Miss Laura B. Shaw of Central State Teachers College at Mt. Pleasant will act as hostess and director of interpretive readers from the eleven colleges.

A new peace oratorical and extemporaneous contest was discussed and it was decided to have such a contest Wednesday, February 19, at Michigan State Normal, Ypsilanti. Mr. J. D. Menchoffer will act as state chairman for all peace oratorical and extemporaneous events.

Instead of going back to the old system of separate men and women debate teams, the league decided that all debates would be co-educational.

It was also decided that the national intercollegiate debate question would be used. This is: "Resolved that Labor should have an active share in management of Industry."

Milwaukee Host City to N.S.P.A. Convention

The National Scholastic Press Association will hold its 20th annual convention in Milwaukee November 28-30 for editors, staff members, and advisors of student publications throughout the United States.

Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota and a Navy Captain during World War II, heads the list of outstanding speakers. Governor at 31, Mr. Stassen has been selected by the Junior Association of Commerce as one of the country's ten outstanding young men.

The convention program, which commemorates the 25th anniversary of the founding of N.S.P.A., will include more than seventy-five sectional meetings for newspapers, yearbooks, and magazines.

A.D.D. to Sell Candy at Athletic Events

Members of the Athletic Debt Diggers Society held several meetings to make preparations for the sale of popcorn, candy, and pop at the college football games.

Although active in maintaining the college bookstore during the war years, in the absence of the Blue Key Organization, A.D.D. will have as its main function this year the selling of candy at all college athletic events.

President Betty Timmer has announced that the sale of college pennants and stationery will be continued and that arrangements are being made for the carrying out of this project. It is probable that they will be sold in the various dormitories by the various members of the organization.

Language Clubs Combine To Create Single Group

This year, the various language groups have formed the Modern Language Club. This includes the former German, French and Spanish organizations.

Last year a joint committee, made up of the vice presidents of each group, met to discuss the program schedule. The first program of the year is in charge of the German Club. The meetings are scheduled to be held the second Monday in each month from 7:30 to 9 P. M. The last half hour the various language groups will divide into their separate groups to discuss their own language.

The purpose of this club is to acquaint the student with several countries instead of only one country as was originally the case.

Sororities Have Tea for Sophs, Transfers

Pan Hellenic Board, an inter-sorority council, met and elected Marcela Westerman secretary. The board is composed of two representatives from each sorority.

The Round Robin Tea is scheduled for Saturday afternoon, October 12, from 2:30 to 5:30, and it is for all sophomore and new junior and senior girls. Girls attending the tea will be divided into five groups, with each group visiting the five sororities where a short program will be held. In the last sorority room, refreshments will be served, and each guest will receive a sheet of announcements concerning pledging, which will be explained by the sorority senior representative of Pan Hellenic.

On Monday night, October 14, each sorority will meet and make a list of the girls they would like to bid. The following day, Tuesday, October 15, every girl who wants to become a member of a sorority should list her three sorority choices at a booth in Voorhees living room between 10:00 A. M. and 5:00 P. M.

Any girl who has been on campus for two semesters is eligible for sorority. Even though a girl has not maintained a "C" average in her freshman year, she can be bidden by a sorority and remain a pledge for one semester.

After both the girl's choices and the lists of the sorority have been handed in, the faculty committee consisting of Miss Laura Boyd and Miss Elizabeth Lichty will meet and match the two and give each sorority the list of their new members.

The Friday night after the acceptance of the bids are received, each sorority will hold a welcoming party and formal initiation will be held on the following Friday night. This system of pledging does away with informal initiation and the old system of rushing entirely.

To provide the freshmen girls with an organization, Alpha Sigma Alpha, the freshmen club which was initiated last year, will meet with all freshmen girls on October 14 in the chapel, so that the freshmen may organize at this time.

Cosmo Frat Elects Van Liere President

Twenty-two active Cosmopolitans met on Thursday evening, October 3, to discuss the rushing rules for the year and to hold a regular election. New officers for the fall term are: President, Claire Van Liere; Vice President, Merle Vandenberg; Secretary, Buster Van Dyke; Treasurer, Leroy Sandee; Keeper of the Archives, Don Miller; Student Council Representative, Clarence Luth.

Inter-Frat Council Plans Rushing Rules

On Tuesday afternoon, the Inter-Faternity Council composed of two representatives from each fraternity, and Dean Hinga, met to discuss and draw up new fraternity rushing rules for the school year 1946-1947. The following rules were the outcome of this meeting:

1. No fraternity will start rushing practices until October 11, 1946. The period of rushing will last one week.
2. Bids will be sent out to new men on October 18, 1946. The period of silence will be enforced from October 18, 1946, to October 21, 1946. During this period, no rushing or contact will be made with the men extended bids.
3. On October 21, 1946, the Inter-Faternity Council will meet with Dean Hinga, open the replies to the bids, and form a clearing house to settle all questions arising at this time.
4. Each fraternity will be limited to sixty men.
5. The maximum number of bids sent out cannot exceed the total number of pledges necessary to bring the total membership of the Fraternity to sixty members.
6. The Council recommends that no new fraternities be organized until such time as the present fraternities have filled their quota.
7. Dean Hinga will act as moderator to settle all disputes and differences arising between fraternities. All infractions of these rules will be subjected to his judgment.
8. No definite meeting places are to be assigned at this time, but will be appointed through the Inter-Faternity Council.

Fraternal Plans Rushing And Homecoming Events

Fraternal Society met for the first time this semester, with a showing of some 35 odd members. President Art Timmer presided. College plans for rushing were discussed, as well as a reception for alumni expected at the Homecoming game. Various committees were appointed to handle the details accompanying rushing season.

Mothballs

Mothballs, composed of something I vaguely remember making once in organic, are very useful. They keep moths out of your clothing — that is, if you arrange them like a suit of armor for protection. The physical barrier alone discourages moths — they thrive on exposed wool and like to bathe in the fumes of the mothballs.

But I wouldn't mind if the stupid creatures would limit their activities to my clothes because, after all, I made myself a sack last week. As it is, they come fluttering out of my books when I shake out the dust. I open my duobonnet ink, and presto! there emerges a beautiful vermilion demon related to Minerva — now I'm confusing my mothology. And from my box of crackers come the fat moths unperturbed at being caught red-footed.

The climax came the other day when I touched my drape, and, as one would expect, it fell. From one of the snug folds came a horde of flappers. They permeated the room; they diffused into my trunk and everything else, shut or open. I clapped my hands over my eyes to shut out the horrible sight, grabbed my mothballs, and left the room shrieking, "You can have my room; you can have my clothes and my food and my ink. But you're not going to enjoy my nice, sweet mothballs!"

Your motheaten correspondent,
Joanne Decker.

Faculty Poll Shows Opinions Concerning System of Cutting

Much has been said concerning the system of cutting classes as practiced by students. A poll of faculty opinion on the abolishment of the cutting system at Michigan State College shows a variety of results. The deans, heads of departments, and instructors who were contacted have made the following statements:

H. C. Rather, dean of the Basic college, said, "I think the check on attendance should be up to the individual instructor and correlated with the quality of work that the student is doing in the course."

A. A. Applegate, head of the journalism department, voices his opinion as, "Ideally it is an excellent thing. It is likely to work a good deal of hardships on the student that is not used to being on his own and the mortality rate is liable to be higher. Along with it should go higher standards of honor in taking examinations."

Dr. Ben Euwena, head of the English department, stated, "The important thing in a course is learning the material, and it doesn't matter how the student learns it. But the easiest and quickest way of learning is by going to class and getting the benefit of class discussion and getting the instructor's interpretation of the material." — (ACP).

Bringing Up Father

By Arlene Wieten

Ya know, my Dad is a pretty right guy, but sometimes I think he doesn't understand me a bit. 'Course, he's awfully sweet about some things, like the day he was looking all over for his best white shirt and found out that I'd worn it to the beach — and I guess I really should have asked him first before I took the car to Saugatuck that night and got the front fender accordion-pleated.

He always says he hasn't a chance around the house with two women — Mom and me, that is — around the house, plus a dog, which is really mine, but Dad takes care of. But deep down, he loves it.

Getting back to what I started to say, though — he doesn't understand me. He's so terrible stubborn about some things that it seems to me he's plain unreasonable. Why, every time I get myself settled to listen to Fred Waring, he insists on listening to a news broadcast — then I have to go upstairs and listen to my own radio which will only play two stations and Fred Waring's isn't one of 'em.

And every time I get out my records — especially my current favorite, "Choo Choo Ch'Boogie," or "Blue Skies," by Benny Goodman with that luscious Art Lund singing, he starts muttering about that "uncivilized racket kids call music."

And can you imagine anyone wanting to stay home on Friday night to listen to a fight when Dane Clark is on at the movie? And it wasn't even a Joe Louis fight, either. Besides, I didn't have a date, and I was broke, and I don't see why he couldn't have taken me.

But to top everything — for

Liberal Arts Colleges To Contribute Leaders

According to Senator James William Fulbright of Arkansas, the small liberal arts college is especially suited to contribute leaders capable of helping to solve world problems involving social and political relations. Senator Fulbright believes the hope of the future lies partly in just such colleges.

Mr. Fulbright further stated that inasmuch as the United States has suddenly found herself the most powerful nation in the world, it is up to the United States to lead, but not to dominate, in world organization. The United States must play their part through plans, resolutions, men, and brains. — (ACP).

three nights in a row last week, the same fella called up for me at the same time — 11:30 — each night. Well, Dad got out of bed to answer all three nights, and even after the third time, he didn't even find out the fella's name!

And now he just can't understand why I don't think he understands me.

G. Van Zyl Attends Chem. Exposition

Dr. Gerrit Van Zyl spent the week of September ninth to the fourteenth in Chicago where he attended the National Meeting of the American Chemical Society and the Chemical Exposition.

Papers on the research work of Oliver J. Lampen, Robert Emmick, Howard Hartough, Robert Donia, Calvin Van der Werf and Frederick Yonkman were presented at the meetings of the American Chemical Society. Dr. Raymond L. Zwemer, Executive Director of the International Committee on Scientific and Cultural Cooperation of the United States Department of State, spoke on the Role of Government in Assisting International Cooperation between Scientific Groups at the Chemical Exposition.

At this convention, the newly organized Science Chapter of the Hope College Alumni Association held a dinner meeting at which fifty men were present. To the former Hope men present, Dr. Irwin J. Lubbers gave an address outlining present and future changes at Hope College.

All science and mathematics majors are automatically members of the Science Chapter of Hope Alumni. Graduates should send their name and address to Dr. Gerrit Van Zyl, Hope College, to make certain their name is on the role.

The Flyin' Cheerleader

Can You Write???

Out of our delightfully large enrollment of 1,195 students we should have a lot of talent displayed along several various lines. I noticed that 75 people signed up for the band and I believe that there must be at least that many students interested in writing.

I'm sure a lot of new students must have written for their high school papers. Why not continue the practice? After all, the Anchor is your paper and it is up to you to improve it or contribute to its news or features.

Writing is often times an inspirational field — one writes when the spirit moves one. Therefore, you should cultivate those rare occasions and "say it with printer's ink."

When you have finished the masterpiece put it in the Anchor box at the college office with your name on it. It is up to the Anchor staff to judge the quality of your article. We are not professionals, you understand, but we do try to help the writers.

Your article is no better than the work you put into it, so if we don't use it we'll tell you why so you can try again.

Come on, all you verbal geniuses, and drop us a line. It can be humorous, sentimental, serious, delirious, or just plain patter. Writing is an outlet for the imagination — why don't you try it??

Milestone Promises To Be Still Better

Work has begun on the 1947 Milestone, with chief members of the staff working last spring and this summer. Business Manager R. F. Topp and his colleagues are busy canvassing local merchants for advertising, while photography director Isla Vander Heuvel has stocked up on negatives since spring sports broke into the news.

Joe Palmer as literary editor is busy counting spaces on writeups for professors. Editor Howie Koop is well satisfied with the progress achieved so far, and with the increased enrollment he expects a book far and beyond the size ever published by the junior class. There are still openings for any junior desiring to work on the staff; contact either the editor or business manager.

Trite Tripe

Now that school is three weeks gone and you Frosh are no longer quite so fresh, we can settle down to some sound advice on affairs in general ala Hops Collich. We do hope you are enjoying yourselves, you lucky kids. We trust there are none here like one we met this summer who (quote) "discovered the school during one of her Denver lay-overs" (unquote). She was an airline hostess and very lovely, but her name was Aris Platt and with that we looked further. Anyway, with the sun beaming beautifully through our bay window, we offer this bit of advice: It is an old school custom hereabouts when weather permits (don't blame me if it snows by the time this goes to press) to don bathing suit and head Ottawa-way for a tet-a-tet with ole-sol. Weather does permit, and one does meet the nicest people... which reminds us of how times have changed. It used to take two sheep two years to produce enough wool to clothe the well-dressed woman. Now the average silkworm can fulfill the same purpose in his Sunday afternoon off. At least that's the impression I've attained, and blind be the student that doesn't agree.

Tuesday I received a letter from the distinguished Dr. Snifflewiffer, M.D., Ph.D., B.S., B.V.D., Ph. OOEY in regards to certain clinic scenes going on about campus. He went into great detail describing the unsanitary effects, and urging the abolishment of this practice. I have since given this much thought and study and as a result realized that even death itself is playing with this pastime. It can also be proved that women are the bigger offenders of this enemy of mankind when one discovers the as-

Enrollment Soars to Record High at Hope

Enrollment figures from the registrar's office have set an all-time high for Hope College. With the total enrollment soaring towards the 1200 mark, Hope takes its place as one of the many colleges throughout the country who are endeavoring to provide educational opportunities for those who desire them.

A glance at the figures below indicates that there is a marked difference in the number of students enrolled for September, 1946, as compared with the figure eleven years ago — June 30, 1935 — which listed a total enrollment of 579.

DUTCHMEN TAKE THREE IN ROW

Defeat Ypsi in Battle 13 - 0; Team Outplays Heavier Eleven

The Hope football club made it three in a row Friday night by eliminating a strong Michigan Normal aggression 13-0. Both the Dutch touchdowns were made through the air, the first on a pass from Higgs to Yonker, the second on a pass from Higgs to Timmer, who raced some 30 odd yards with nice interference for the second tally. Higgs converted, to give him 3 such points in games so far this year.

The first quarter proved to be a very hotly contested event. The Ypsi club managed to chalk up a couple of first downs while holding the Vanderbush outfit to one. It was in the second frame that the Dutchmen cut loose with their potential power to score both touchdowns.

Hope Scores in Second

The first touchdown march began on the Normal 40 yard line. Yonkers sent a beauty flying to De Mull, good for 20 yards. Yonkers smashed the middle for 5; Post ripped off tackle for 3 more. On the fourth down Higgs let fly to Yonkers in the flat and the neon flashed a 6-0 lead for the stubborn Dutch. The attempted conversion was blocked by Weiss, center for the Normal club.

Higgs booted following the touchdown and Falconi returned the punt to his own 30. Bill Holwerda entered the Hope lineup at fullback, snagged a pass intended for Ypsi end Abersole, and set up the second Hope touchdown, which began on the Normal 35 and, terminated exactly one play later. Higgs threw a beautiful pass to Timmer who crazy-legged it some 35 yards behind beautiful blocking to score the second touchdown of the game. Higgs made his kick good, and Hope was out in front 13-0. Ypsi threatened just before the half ended, but the final score proved to be the half-time tally.

Passing Improves

Hope proved to be very successful in the air, making 11 of 18 passes good and having only one intercepted. Ypsi countered on 2 of 10. The Dutch chalked up 11 first downs to 16 for the Normal eleven. Again Coach Vanderbush used a

Hope Defeats Albion Eleven, 26-0

By completely outplaying the Albion College Britons to the tune of a 26-0 score, the Hope College Dutch pushed themselves into the slot of "the team to beat" in the M.I.A.A.

From the very start of the game when Art Timmer scored from the one-yard line, it was all Hope. Timmer scored again on a 12-yard end run jaunt, and Nick Yonker scored Hope's third touchdown on a pass from Dick Higgs. Gabby Van Dis, in his first role as a ball carrier for Hope this year, raced 43 yards for the final tally.

The Dutch line was superb throughout the game in bottling up the Albion attack. Isaac, Briton fullback, lived up to advance notices with some hard driving runs.

great many players, but his starting lineup still proved to be the most potent, especially on defense. The Dutch will travel for the first time this year when they play Grand Rapids Junior College at Grand Rapids on the 10th. It will be a night contest.

Hope College Football Squad Boasts Height, But Lacks Weight

Height of six feet and 180 pounds weight marks the average man on the Hope college team this year.

A roster provided by Coach Al Vanderbush lists 45 men on the 1946 squad, the first since the sport was discontinued here in 1942.

Of the 45 men, 18 are Holland residents.

In height and weight, the Holland players are led by six-foot-three Dell Koop, 22-year-old first-year man who plays tackle. He weighs 270.

Other Holland men include 24-year-old Jack Yeomans, six feet tall and weighing 180 pounds. He is a senior and plays tackle. Scoop With Koop

With everyone talking about football I decided to break into the thing and discuss, just a bit, basketball. Hope College was, is, and will be a power in the state on the hardwood, yet facilities for watching the spectacle in our fair city are in a sad way. Holland Armory, where all the local games are held will facilitate some 1200 odd people, which covers the student body, leaves out the faculty, local fans and visiting rooters, which is n. g. Through various and assorted means and manners I discover that a field house of unusually good structure, with accommodations for over 4000 can be obtained by the college for the asking, total cost for moving same to be stood by the institution. The army is willing to give, no strings attached, a field house, now at Fort Custer; the cost for moving and re-setting the building will not exceed $6,000! The site can be obtained, and unless I am way off in estimating, this building would more than pay for itself, at $.60 a head. Of course there are minor details and obstacles, but I am now assuming the affirmative and as Coach Hinga would say, "Beginning is half done." Maybe some work should be made of this.

Hope showed good football in defeating Michigan Normal Friday night. They completed 11 of 18 passes, made 11 first downs and had two of their passes pay off with touchdowns. Michigan Normal had a very powerful team, and managed to chalk up 16 first downs, all but one of them through power drives. They completed only 2 of 10 passes. Up until the Ypsi game there was a great deal of doubt as to the potential power of the Dutch for their first two opponents were no match; the Normal club erased all question of doubt. So the MIAA will be a huge three way fight between Hillsdale, Kalamazoo and Hope. I'm giving top nod to Kalamazoo, and its all a guess.

Art Timmer lost a front tooth in the Ypsi game; his wife was not too well pleased! Clair De Mull played a bangup game at end, and watch Ernie Post throw those blocks. He learned that from Fritz Crisler while playing there under the Navy V-5 program.

Dick Higgs again proved his versatility by throwing both touchdown passes, and kicking the one extra point. He's proving his worth as an all MIAA back of 1942.

Over 5000 people crammed into Riverside Park to witness the Ypsi game, which only proves that the people of Holland are really out to witness some good football and know who to follow. This evening the team travels to Grand Rapids to play strong Junior College, always a good ball club. In 1942 the Dutch tied J. C. 7-7, the lone tally in that game coming as the result of an end run by the same Mr. Higgs.

Just a word about the sports sections in various and assorted newspapers which you may read. In most of those papers the writer is doing a lot of guessing, and when he says Hope scored an upset over Albion or Michigan Normal, as one good friend in Kalamazoo told this writer, it's so much hot air. He hasn't ever seen Hope play ball. So form your own opinions; read the papers, listen to the radio (WKZO, 11:15 p. m., Kalamazoo gives all MIAA dope), then say they're all nuts and pick your own winner. See you all in Grand Rapids tonight.
